Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 22 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Further wet and windy weather, drier south and east.

This Evening and Tonight:
Light rain or drizzle over eastern parts of England dying out, then misty with patchy fog lifting into low cloud later. Clear spells further west with a frost in places, but strong winds and heavy rain into north-western areas later.

Tuesday:
Wet and windy weather moving east across northern areas, with heavy rain and severe gales in places. Further south and east, drier and brighter.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Windy with rain Wednesday, heavy in the north and west at first. Becoming drier, brighter with some sunshine. Any showers mainly north and west. Mild, especially in the southeast.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.